About Halal Research Council

Halal Research Council (HRC) is a globally recognized institution dedicated to research, training, and certification in the Halal industry. HRC works to bridge the knowledge gap and promote Shariah-compliant practices in food, finance, pharmaceuticals, and related sectors. Through its online programs, certification, training programs, publications and industry partnerships, HRC continues to empower individuals and organizations toward Halal excellence.

About Halal Industry

Halal food means food fit for human consumption and permitted by the Laws of Islam and that which fulfills the Islamic Laws conditions.

As the Muslim population is increasing drastically across the globe, the Halal food products are quickly gaining worldwide recognition and acceptance as a new benchmark for quality and safety assurance. Food products that are Halal certified are readily acceptable by Muslims consumer due to the concept that it is Shari'ah requirement, wholesome and cover safety aspects of hygiene and sanitation. These attribute appeal to non-Muslims as well, many people not aware of what halal is or the process involved in producing it. There is a need to have Halal food management and certification campaign to educate the public of what is the aim of Halal food processing, preparation and label on food so that people can choose the best food without any doubt. This is as much for Muslims as well as for non-Muslims.

Halal Food Management and Halal Certification system encompassing the laws the enforcement team and the support of analytical facilities should be well coordinated to gain confidence from Muslims worldwide.
